Managed Trail
Unmanaged Trail
Special Ways are walking trails that are subject to special town zoning regulations.
Managed Trails are either maintained by the Town or a local conservation group.
Unmanaged Trails are used by the public but do not receive regular maintenance.

* West Tisbury voters in 1982 agreed to purchase a 250-acre property known as the Margaret K. Littlefield Greenlands, just north of the state forest, as a potential water supply in case private wells someday fall short of demand. According to a management plan for the property, other Island towns may be granted access if they have exhausted all other supply options. But the towns have yet to fully discuss that possibility.
