Re: Renovation project at the former Educomp Building

I am writing to express my support for the proposed renovation and expansion of the former Educomp Building brought forward by Xerxes Aghassipour. The plan for fourteen residential units will be another positive step toward providing much-needed year-round housing and some relief for community families. The renderings of the building look well-designed and nicely fit the character Vineyard Haven, promoting a cohesive and viable development.

My home in Vineyard Haven abuts a property owned by Xerxes and I can personally say that through the seven years I have known him, he has proven to be a responsible and responsive landlord and neighbor.

I hope this works out for Island families and the town; it will be great to see some life back at this location.

Sincerely,

Mary Volpe
