Subject: hospital siting

To the MV Commissioners:

I had hoped during the last two weeks to be convinced that the hospital should be re-built in its current location. Hours of hearings and a review of the alternative site study only lead me to the conclusion that it is time to find a new site for the hospital. As the construction phase was described in brief, we got an inkling of the enormous negative impact the construction will have on the hospital staff, residents and neighbors. As the parking issues were discussed, it was clear the site is too small. Add to this flooding, bridge construction, and a congested beach road and you have a site that is too small and in the wrong location. I firmly believe that if more folks are convinced the hospital has found the right site for its expansion, the funds will become available. Let's find the right site--the delay will be well worth it in the long run. Allison Burger, Chilmark
