Hello from Dr. Fisher Road,

A question... Are we sending mixed messages with this proposal? Maybe being broad-minded is synonymous with air-headed. The Plan to place this medical marijuana facility in a hidden away, wooded area on a dirt road sounds suspicious and clandestine. If we, as a community are openly accepting of such a "facility" (and we are), why not locate it in an open, easily accessible, easily monitored location?

Obviously, the current plan includes significant increase of traffic on a rustic way, historic road which allows children going to school as well as joggers, bicyclists (including the Compass Christian Camp), horse-back riders, dog walkers and meanderers to enjoy a safe passage. Residents of the area are regularly amused by the lost drivers, including delivery trucks using the road. GPS on the Vineyard can be confusing. As I watch elementary school children stepping into the bushes to allow a car to pass, I am amused at their savvy. Yet, we slow down to 20mph passing the High School because high-school students don't know how to look both ways before crossing the street. Hmm!

Since my husband purchased our property in 1971, there had always been concern about the dump plume etc, and water quality. Today we have wonderful well water. How does this fragile area get protected from a facility which has waste product and drainage considerations?

your attention,

Thank-you for

Sullivan
