Dear Paul:

I am deeply disappointed in the new roof on the former Martha's Vineyard National Bank in Vineyard Haven which is now Santander. The bank's campus houses two of the most interesting buildings in town, but now the main building has lost some of its architectural integrity with the flat asphalt shingles. I urge the MV Commission to take action to make Santander replace the shingles with the original tiles. Once we lose something precious we will never regain it.

Thank you for your consideration.
