Hi

I think rotary at the corner of Barnes Rd and the VH-E'town Rd is a very bad idea. People do not understand how to drive through a rotary and I think it will cause more of a mess of traffic. I have been in England where they do know how to drive through a rotary/roundabout and have waited a long time to approach and enter one.

I think the stop signs are working fine.

Can we find a better idea for that corner that doesn't involve digging up a lot of land and putting down more pavement?

thank you
