SEa VIEW HOUSE,

EDGARTOWN

Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

(For many years known to the public as the Vineyard House.)

Thoroughly Renovated and Refitted.

Located on North Water Street, overlooking the masts of Harbor and Sound, and in close proximity to Shopping, Resting and Feeding. Rooms, Restaurant, Library, Telegraph, where you shall be used. The House remarkable large and airy, furnished with improved beds, and modern all that can be desired.

WILLIAM KELLEY, Manager.
We refuse accommodations to no one on account of religious belief, but we have a large regular patronage who constitute the society of the place. For reasons which we cannot understand and feel it impossible to explain they are adverse to association with Hebrews. Under the circumstances we feel it our duty to advise those of that faith that it would be unpleasant for them to spend their vacations at the Kelley House.
Announcement

The Kelley House becomes the Great Harbour Inn

For a long time, everyone associated with the Kelley House has felt that this oldest of all Vineyard inns should have a name reflecting the entire two hundred years of its history, rather than a single period.

Accordingly, after having been called in turn the Tavern, Marcy House, Vineyard House, Sea View and Kelley House, it is now renamed GREAT HARBOUR INN, to perpetuate the name first given to Edgartown itself, and a tradition closely interwoven with Vineyard history for more than two centuries.

Proprietor.

Dear Sir,

I suggest that you add your phone No. for our convenience.

Yours sincerely,

[Handwritten note]
As we once again take up the duty of preparing the Kelley House for the 1940 season, it is with pleasure that we anticipate the return of our many friends and we are looking forward to having you with us again.

As you know it has been impossible for us to accommodate all who wished to come to the Kelley House in the past, so I am writing our former guests early in the season urging them to advise us of their plans in order that they may have the accommodations they desire.

Whether you plan a stay of a few days, a few weeks or all season, please know we will be glad to assist in making plans for your vacation.

We hope to make our garden more beautiful than ever this year and will have some lawn games.

It is none too early to make plans for the summer months and we would appreciate hearing from you so that we may make any reservations you might desire.

As people rave over the charms of Martha's Vineyard in summertime, so do they grow enthusiastic over it's marvelous beauty in spring, if given the opportunity to do so.

The panorama of budding trees, wild flowers bursting into life, birds approaching nesting time, Island farmers tilling fertile soil, fishermen mending nets and boats, blue sky and bright sun over land and sea, all these and more are charms to fascinate the most exacting.

The Kelley House in quaint Edgartown - a home place, of special hospitality and appointment, comfortable, easy, modern, with splendid things to eat - makes substantial reductions to desirable guests during the months of April and May. Information as to rates and reservations promptly furnished.

You should visit the Kelley House in springtime!
