To: Alex Elvin <elvin@mvcommission.org>;

Any visitor who has ever stayed at Shearer Cottage will immediately recall that the experience found that one was not treated merely as a transient lodger but more as a familial guest.

As a more than 100-year-old establishment on the island of Martha's Vineyard, Shearer Cottage should, and has been, recognized as an AMERICAN institution!

While the precise details related to the planned disposition of Shearer Cottage may not be entirely evident, the current guardians of Martha's Vineyard's heritage should be assured that the any prospective plans for Shearer Cottage will in no way compromise the true legacy of Martha's Vineyard.
