Dear Commissioners,

I am writing again to support the Stillpoint project and to register concern about the process to this point.

We are looking forward to collaborating with Stillpoint on community gatherings, educational events, and other activities.

We are concerned that some of the possible conditions in the LUPC's draft of 2 January 2023 will be detrimental to Stillpoint's non-profit mission, and to our collaborations together.

We were also disappointed that at the public hearings tribal elders such as Bettina Washington and others were given three minutes each to comment in support of the project, while others such as David Foster were allowed a much longer amount of time, and multiple opportunities, to voice their concerns.

It is my hope that there is still space for a more fair and equitable process and consideration for this very important project.

Kataputush,
